Description

Picture pulling into your own private drive on nearly an acre in Dandridge, where a red log cabin with a 10-year-old metal roof sits back from the road behind mature shade trees. This is the kind of place that feels like a getaway but lives like an everyday home, and I think it's perfect for a family that wants room to spread out or anyone who's been dreaming of cabin living without giving up convenience. Inside, the living room, dining room, and kitchen all flow together in one big open space with warm hardwood floors and those cozy log walls you just can't fake. Whoever's cooking stays part of the conversation, and there's plenty of room for the whole crew to gather or for friends to pile in on game night. The kitchen gives you real counter space, a pantry, and a breakfast bar, plus a separate laundry room so life stays organized.

All three bedrooms sit on one level, including a primary suite with its own bathroom and walk-in closet. Two full baths mean nobody's fighting over the shower on a busy morning. A covered front porch runs the whole width of the house, and there's a two-car garage for parking and storage.

The backyard is where this home really shines. You've got a big inground pool inside a private wood-fenced yard, a covered patio with a ceiling fan and stamped stone flooring made for summer dinners, and a level lawn with a storage shed and garden beds. It's the kind of setup the kids and grandkids never want to leave, and honestly, neither will you.

Here's why the location is so good. You're tucked away and quiet, but only about 2 miles from I-40, so getting anywhere is easy. Douglas Lake access is just 5 miles down the road for boating and fishing days. Dollywood is under 30 miles for weekend fun, and East Knoxville is right at 30 miles when you need the airport, shopping, or a night out. Private location, close to everything, that's the whole story here.
