Description

This home was originally built by a NASA engineer so you can imagine the attention to detail it displays. It is so well built even the crawl space floor was poured using steel reinforced solid concrete. All the doors are WHEEL CHAIR ACCESSIBLE. The eat in kitchen is large with two large pantries. For further details the Architectural Drawings are on-site. Located near the end of a dead end street the back yard is the real sanctuary. It is flat as a pancake and surrounded by thick hedges. It feels like you are out in the country even though you're conveniently close to ETSU. So you better hurry and book an appointment today. This one won't last long
